

LIFETHERM 2000 WARMING BED

From first breath to full stability - Lifetherm 2000 ensures every newborn starts life warm, safe and strong.

The Lifetherm 2000 provides a safe, supportive environment for infants up to 8kg, easing the transition from incubator care.

It provides stable temperature for a stronger start through precise thermal support, allowing gradual heat reduction for natural thermoregulation.

Meanwhile, the gel pad mimics skin-to-skin comfort, promoting fewer complications, less stress and a better developmental environment - all whilst keeping parents close.

REDUCED INCUBATOR SEPARATION

it supports early stabilisation by maintaining precise and reliable thermoregulation, helping to minimise time spent separated from parents in an incubator.

As well as even heat distribution, heat retention can be enhanced with an optional folding or closed lid.

ENHANCED ACCESSIBILITY

Designed to give both parents and clinical teams immediate, unhindered access to the baby, all four sides fold down for clear, barrier-free reach.

Both set and actual temperatures are clearly displayed, and instant alerts to any changes helps teams respond quickly and confidently.

OPTIMISED MANUAL HANDLING

The Lifetherm 2000 is designed to reduce physical strain on caregivers whilst keeping babies secure.

Quiet and vibration-free soft-lift height adjustment via dual foot pedals allows staff to work at an optimal level, without startling or disturbing the infant.

VERSATILE STORAGE SOLUTIONS

An optional storage drawer block can be mounted on either the front or back of the lifting column, providing convenient access for staff.

The block includes two drawers and a shelf, each independently rotatable for easy, flexible access from any position.
